Acid Etch

Aynsley is the last remaining company in England producing acid etch decorated fine bone china.

It is a craft, which has taken many years of experience to perfect, creating subtle and elegant designs, which cannot be matched by imitations.

To achieve the ultimate luxury in fine dining only the very best materials are used, such as twenty-four carat gold and the highest quality platinum.

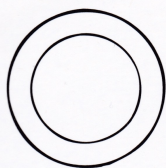

beautiful,

With careful preparation and painstaking attention to detail a dinner plate may take up to twelve weeks to complete. Extremely skilled hands are needed for the many delicate tasks required.

Aynsley acid etch tableware has often been chosen to grace Royal palaces in Europe and around the world, each item being uniquely produced with care and pride.
